

A tropical beach wedding setup. In the center, a wooden archway is draped with white fabric and decorated with large green monstera leaves and white flowers. Underneath the arch is a small wooden table with a white cloth, surrounded by wooden chairs with white cushions. Rows of similar chairs are arranged on the sandy beach, facing the arch. To the right, there is a large, rustic thatched hut. The background shows the ocean and palm trees. The overall atmosphere is romantic and tropical.
